SEED MONEY FROM RETHINKIMPACTS 2017 TO RESEARCH PROJECT AT THE DEPARTMENT

A research project led by Kristina Risom Jespersen entitled "Measuring the economic spill-over from the creative industry" has been granted seed money from rethinkIMPACTS 2017.

The project aims at developing a measurement tool of the spill-over potential from the creative industry to other industries. The project approaches creative industries based on the people employed. Based on the Danish register data an index of company creativity has been developed that is formed on the human capital creative capabilities, and this index has been linked to company performance and economic variables.

The project is one of nine projects that received money from rethinkIMPACTS 2017. The total amount of money granted was DKK 900.000.

Read more about the research project here.

As part of the research project a workshop entitled "Measurement of Spillover from Creative Industries" will be held at the Department on 26 August 2014 – Read more about the workshop below.

WORKSHOP ON MEASUREMENT OF SPILLOVER FROM CREATIVE INDUSTRIES

A workshop entitled "Measurement of Spillover from Creative Industries" will be held at the Department on 26 August 2014.

The workshop is part of the research project "Measuring the economic spill-over from the creative industry" described above, and is organized by the Business Innovation Economics research group led by Kristina Risom Jespersen.

The agenda for the workshop is a mix of distinguished speakers from researchers in the fields of spillovers, creativity and innovative behavior and a panel debate focused on spillover measurement.

The distinguished speakers at the workshop will be:

- Frédéric Laurin, University of Quebec at Trois-Rivières
- Maria Michelin, Rotterdam School of Management
- Maksim Belitski, Henley Business School, University of Reading

BEWARE OF THIEVES

Unfortunately thieves have become very fond of breaking through the windows of our offices. They are, of course, especially interested in laptops and other valuable IT equipment, so it is important that you lock your laptop and other things of value into a drawer or the like before you go home (if you don't take it with you), so that it is not visible from the window.

Also, it is a good idea to close the blinds before you go home - especially those of you who have offices on the ground floor.

TEMPORARY CHANGE REGARDING STUDY SUPPORT FOR OECON AND SOC

On 1 September Study and Research Supporter Betina Sørensen, who administers the oecon and soc programmes, will be going on maternity leave.

While Betina is away Christel B. Mortensen will take over her assignments in relation to oecon and soc, except Bachelor projects and Master theses - these will be handled by Annia Hoffmeyer.

The lecturers who will be directly affected by this temporary change will be contacted individually with further details.

LEARN TO SPEAK DANISH

Lær dansk

Aarhus University and Lær Dansk offer Danish language courses for all international staff and their spouses during the fall semester 2014.

Classes for beginners start on 15 September. Classes will run on Mondays and Wednesdays from 4.15-5.45 pm or Tuesdays and Thursdays from 6.00-7.30 pm. Deadline for registration is 3 September.

The course is free of charge.

CALL - FRENCH-DANISH SCIENTIFIC CO-OPERATION

The Scientific Service at the Institut francais du Danemark calls for applications for their Programme IFD - Science 2015 for French-Danish scientific co-operation.

The aim of the programme is to foster French-Danish applications to the European framework programme, and promote the development of scientific co-operation between universities and research institutes by providing support for emerging scientific collaborations between French and Danish research teams.

Applications are encouraged from newly established teams, from teams led by young researchers and/or for projects where there have been no previous collaborations between the teams involved.

Application deadline is 31 October 2014.

STAFF PORTRAIT

STAFF PORTRAIT: HASSAN JAWAID

This time Hassan Jawaid has agreed to answer the questions for the staff portrait. Thank you, Hassan. Hassan is a PhD student at the Department.

How long have you been a PhD student at the Department of Economics and Business?

I have been a PhD student for almost one and a half years.

What is your background?

During my undergraduate degree, I studied a Bachelor of Science in Mathematics from CIIT Islamabad, Pakistan and after that I pursued a Master degree in Financial Mathematics from Uppsala university, Sweden.

What are your main areas of research?

My main areas of research are the valuation and risk management of pension contracts, especially variable annuities. And I am also interested in Target volatility options and hedging of these options.

What is in your experience the biggest difference between being a PhD student and being a regular student?

The biggest difference between being a PhD student and being a regular student is the responsibility. You are solely responsible for your research, course work and duties. And being a PhD student, you get lots of opportunities to participate in various courses/conferences at different universities and meet new people within your area of research.

Are you teaching any classes this semester, or what are you going to teach next semester?

I will be a teaching assistant in the next semester for the Mathematics 1 and Mathematical Economics 2.

Are you planning to take part in any conferences or PhD courses in the near future?

I am planning to take the course Monte Carlo methods next semester.

Have you been abroad in connection with your PhD study (or where are you planning to go)?

I am planning to go Maastricht University at the start of next year.

What do you do when you are not at work?

I like to go to the gym, running, cooking food and spending leisure time with my friends.

Supplementary question from Orimar Sauri: Are you happy, Hassan?

Hahaha, I always feel happy when I am with my friends (Orimar, Lorenzo, Andrea, Camilla) :).

Please give us your suggestion for the next department staff member to be presented:

Lorenzo Boldrini

What specific supplementary question would you like him or her to answer?

How was the last three days of your vacation after I left?
