ECON NEWS 81

17 AUGUST 2015

CONFERENCE ON LABOUR MARKET MODELS AND THEIR APPLICATIONS

The Conference on Labour Market Models and Their Applications will be held on 26-29 October 2015 at Sandbjerg Manor.

The conference intends to provide a platform for discussion of both theoretical modelling of markets with frictions and their empirical counterparts. Particular emphasis will be made on, but not restricted to, labour market models. Papers which are in the area of labour economics in general are also welcome.

The conference is organised by Henning Bunzel and Rune Vejlin.

NEW MEETING ROOMS - PRIMARILY FOR DISTINGUISHED PURPOSES

From 1 September 2015 the Department will be taking over the meeting rooms in building 2630(K): 101 and 102.

We urge you to still use our usual meeting rooms for regular standard meetings, while these two more presentable meeting rooms primarily should be used for more distinguished purposes, or in cases where our other meeting rooms are either occupied or do not cover your requirements.

In order for our new meeting rooms to stay presentable at all times, it is important that the organizer of the meeting makes sure to leave the meeting room in the same presentable condition as it was found. Please tidy up after yourself (and your guests) and leave the room as you would like to find it. This also applies to all our other meeting rooms.

The two new meeting rooms can be booked through Outlook, and you no longer need approval to book these rooms. However, in order for this arrangement to work, everyone using these rooms must make an effort to leave the rooms in a presentable condition every time.

RECTOR'S VISIT

Rector Brian Bech Nielsen will visit the Department of Economics and Business Economics on Wednesday 19 August from 1 to 2.30 pm in Auditorium 2628(M)-1.

After a short introduction by Brian, there will be a dialogue between department members and him based upon the issues that the department members wish to talk about. There will be no agenda for the meeting.

Our new Dean and Acting Head of Department, Thomas Pallesen, will also be present.

READING LIST SERVICE

All lecturers are encouraged to make use of AU Library's Reading List Service (Pensumservice) before publishing your reading list in Blackboard.

The reading list service consists of the following elements:

- Checking the reading list with respect to copyright: The syllabus list will be reviewed and checked in relation to agreements with Copydan and licensing contracts with Danish and international publishers.
- Link check: The reading list will be checked (and corrected) with respect to links to articles in electronic journals and e-books.
- Bibliographic information: The reading list will be homogenized so that all references receive a consistent output style.

When submitting your reading list to the library, the library will guarantee that your reading list complies with the copyright rules. If you do not submit your reading list to the library, you as a lecturer are responsible for complying with the copyright rules.

To make use of the Reading List Service, please send an e-mail to one of our contact persons at the AU Library:

- Gertrud Stougård Thomsen, e-mail: gst@au.dk
- Betina Sjøstrøm, e-mail: bets@au.dk
- Lone Jensen, e-mail: jen@au.dk

Read more about copyright here: <http://library.au.dk/underviser/ophavsret/> (an English version of the webpage will be available soon).

STRATEGIC FUNDS FOR EDUCATIONAL IT

The Department has received DKK 42,500 for a complete or partial implementation of educational IT in our teaching.

The funds may be spent on e.g.:

- hiring student assistants (e.g. to help with the technical set-up)
- hiring student instructors for blended learning
- buying licenses or other services to activate students
- other possibilities – as long as the purpose is fulfilled

Please send your reasoned suggestion and an estimated budget to Lene Bavnbeek Enevoldsen (len@econ.au.dk) as soon as possible – she must give a final report on how the Department wishes to spend the funds.

If there are several qualified suggestions, Lene Bavnbek Enevoldsen in cooperation with Head of Education Kristina Risom Jespersen and Directors of Studies Charlotte Christiansen and Erik Strøjer Madsen will decide where the money should go.

The funds must be spent before the end of 2015.

WORKSHOP ON EDUCATIONAL IT

The Aarhus University Committee on Education invites you to participate in a workshop on using digital platforms in teaching.

Professor Jeff Haywood, University of Edinburgh, will give a talk entitled "Building a university digital education strategy: Opportunities and challenges to 2025", and AU teaching staff will present how they incorporate educational IT into their work. Topics including e-books, collaborative teaching and 3D modelling will be addressed, and there will be stands where presenters and staff from the university's teaching development centres will answer questions about educational IT.

The workshop will be held on 8 October 2015 from 12 to 5 pm at Ny Munkegade.

CUL INSPIRATION DAY ABOUT EFFECTIVE FEEDBACK

CUL invites lecturers, directors of studies, study board members and others at Aarhus BSS to an inspiration day about effective feedback on Friday 2 October from 8:45 am to 1 pm at Fredrik Nielsens Vej, 8000 Aarhus C.

Feedback is one of the major prerequisites for acquiring new knowledge and practicing new skills. This also applies to university students. It is, however, a major challenge to ensure that the teaching staff at Aarhus BSS is able to provide our students with as much and as qualified feedback as possible within the scope of the course framework.

After a presentation by one of the leading international experts in the field, Professor Emeritus David Nicol, University of Strathclyde, colleagues from Aarhus BSS will present their initiatives to strengthen the feedback in the classroom. There will be plenty of opportunities to be inspired and to discuss your own ideas and initiatives.

Participation is free.

STAFF PORTRAIT

STAFF PORTRAIT: NIELS HALDRUP

This time Niels Haldrup has agreed to answer the questions for the staff portrait. Thank you, Niels. Niels is professor at the Department and is director of CREATES.

How long have you been employed at the Department of Economics and Business Economics?

Well, just for a few months with the current name of the department. However, I have been employed at Aarhus University since 1988 and had my 25th anniversary a couple of years ago. I could have taken the day off, but realized too late ☹

What is your background?

I acquired my MA in economics from University of Warwick, and my PhD from Aarhus University. Since then I have been employed at the Department and became a Professor in 1999. I've spent several sabbatical periods at University of California in San Diego and I was a Jean Monnet Fellow at the European University Institute in Florence for a year early in my career. Since 2007 I have been director of CREATES, which is partially funded by the Danish National Research Foundation.

What is your main area of research?

My main area of research is theoretical and applied econometrics in general terms with particular focus on time series econometrics. This includes the econometrics of seasonality, non-stationary time series econometrics and long memory. More recently, I have worked on the econometric modelling of price behavior of power markets.

What research projects are you working on at the moment?

With co-authors I am currently working on a number of projects including the modelling of the term structure of mortality using factor models, spatial modelling of electricity prices in power grids, high dimensional factor models with long memory, discriminating between spurious and genuine long memory processes, amongst other things.

What are you involved in teaching-wise at the moment?

In addition to supervising PhD and masters students, I am sharing the teaching of the course "Time Series Econometrics" with a colleague.

Are you planning to take part in any conferences or the like abroad in the future?

In mid August I will present a paper at the 2015 Econometric Society World Congress in Montreal. Later in the fall I will participate in a conference in Salvador in Brazil. Next year, I currently have plans to visit various universities in Spain and I schedule a visit to Australia (QUT in Brisbane, University of Sydney, amongst other places) in the (European) fall.

Are you expecting any visiting researchers from abroad in the near future (or have you had any visitors from abroad recently)?

At CREATES we have a regular flow of both long term and short term visitors. During 2014 we had 50-60 visiting professors to give seminars, PhD courses, and to collaborate on research projects. Also, during 2014 CREATES hosted 11 visiting PhD students from various international universities.

Are you collaborating with researchers from other departments at AU at the moment?

Nope, not on research projects. But I do collaborate along a number of dimensions, especially with people from Department of Mathematics.

What do you do when you are not at work?

Well, I have a lovely family and two sons aged 9 and 12 who teach me a lot about computers. In addition, I love relaxing with garden work, in-land and coastal fishing, as well as hunting (Yes, I shoot animals, - but a lion is still on the to-do list). I also love to relax with acrylic painting.

THE PHD CORNER

INFORMATION RETRIEVAL COURSE FOR PHD STUDENTS

AU Library has organised a course primarily for PhD students about information retrieval and information management.

The course will be held twice:

- 9 September 2015: Read more and sign up
- 1 October 2015: Read more and sign up

The main goal of the course is to provide participants with skills to enhance the efficiency of the search process in the beginning of a research project.

The course is relevant for researchers who are doing a literature review, but also for researchers who are in the process of developing their research design.

The course will be held at the AU Library at Bartholins Allé.

PHD DEFENCE: WENJING WANG

Wenjing Wang will defend her PhD thesis entitled

Corporate Innovation, R&D Personnel, External Partnerships and User Knowledge

on Thursday 27 August from 3 pm to 6 pm in building 2636, auditorium U1.
