Press clippings in PURE

ASB Library, Business and Social Sciences, has for some time worked on importing press clippings about researchers at the former ASB into PURE. The project started as a beta-version on 1 January 2012. Press clippings are brief and clear summaries from selected media containing links to the full text article. Infomedia, who monitors a vast number of media, delivers the press clippings, which are selected according to defined selection criteria. A PURE-editor at the ASB Library approves the press clippings, and they are then imported into PURE and linked to the relevant researcher's homepage. Press clippings which are not automatically delivered by Infomedia can be registered in PURE by the researcher, and unwanted press clippings can be removed. The press clipping project is planned to cover all researchers at Business and Social Sciences, and is planned to run until 1 March 2012. Read more about the project here.

Copyright – do you know the rules?

It seems that we have some problems complying with the Copydan agreement, and all lecturers at the department are therefore urged to make sure that they obey the rules in the future, especially when putting material on AULA/Campus. The department may face an enormous fine if the Copydan agreement is violated. Please note that you should not delete any of the material that you already have put on your AULA/Campus pages.

See the full text of the Copydan Framework Agreement concluded between Universities Denmark and Copydan on reproduction of copyrighted material: <http://www.au.dk/om/organisation/index/1/15/15-03/> (in Danish).

We will return to this matter in coming issues of ECON News.

Festival of Research 2012 at Aarhus University (Forskningens Døgn)

On Friday 20 April, the lecture theatres around the University Park will be turned into a bubbling cauldron of fun and interesting presentations and demonstrations of Aarhus University's research. The working title of this year's Festival of Research is EUROPE'S CHALLENGES and paves the way for a wide range of research fields in all the four new main academic areas of the university. Researchers are invited to take an active part with a speed lecture, hands-on presentation, experiment, exhibition or other initiative. In addition to the event at Campus Aarhus, there will be events at some of Aarhus University's other locations, such as Emdrup, Roskilde, Årslev, Foulum and Herning. See invitation in English, in Danish. Registration form in English, in Danish. Read more at www.forsk.dk.

ECON News is issued every second week, on Mondays.

Next issue: Monday 20 February

Deadline for input: Thursday 16 February at 12. E-mail: bhoejklint@econ.au.dk

ECON News is the bi-weekly internal newsletter for Department of Economics and Business. ECON News has the purpose of gathering overall information in order to minimize the current flow of information. Urgent information will still be circulated now and then by use of e-mails.

ECON News will contain information related to overall news not provided by the Departmental News (written by Allan, Head of department). To attain the goal of having a comprehensive information platform, I need your ideas and input. So please provide me with info on new grants etc. Please send me an e-mail: bhoejklint@econ.au.dk
