AND BUSINESS ECONOMICS
AARHUS UNIVERSITY

ECON NEWS 91

1 FEBRUARY 2016

TWO RECIPIENTS OF AUFF STARTING GRANTS AT THE DEPARTMENT

Two researchers at the Department have received Starting Grants from Aarhus University Research Foundation (AUFF):

Søren Dalsgaard, NCR, has received an Associate Professor Starting Grant of DKK 2,900,000 for his project on environmental risk factors for ADHD entitled "Air-pollution and drinking water - a population-based cohort study of environmental risk factors for ADHD". The aim of the project is to estimate whether and to which extent exposure to air-pollution or chemical compounds in drinking water, either during pregnancy or early childhood, is associated with ADHD.

Anders Bredahl Kock, CREATES, has received an Assistant Professor Starting Grant of DKK 1,815,000. The grant will be used to create an interdisciplinary environment within the field of high-dimensional econometrics and statistics. This will be done by hiring a postdoctoral researcher for three years and by organizing a conference on this topic as well as inviting relevant seminar speakers.

Congratulations to both of you!

THE DEPARTMENT'S MENTORING SCHEME

The Department is committed to providing mentoring to all assistant professors and post-docs. The heads of sections match every junior faculty member to a senior faculty mentor following a bottom-up process wherever possible, i.e. the mentee suggests their own mentor. Currently, all juniors have been matched, and all new assistant professors and post-docs will be matched shortly after they begin their employment contract.

A one-year mentoring process has been initiated starting 1 February 2016, which will be evaluated after 12 months, in January 2017. If mentors and mentees wish to continue meeting after this date, they are welcome to do so. If mentees wish to switch mentors at any time, they should contact Nabanita Datta Gupta.

Inspiration on the mentoring process can be found in the handbook by Susanne Søres Hejlsvig (BSS Career and Alumni). Download the handbook via the link below:

If anyone wishes a hard copy, please contact Margit Sommer (she has 20 copies).

INFORMATION SCREENS TO KEEP YOU UPDATED

As some of you may have noticed, information screens have been set up at the entrances of the Department's office buildings; i.e. in building B, C-ground floor, C-1st floor, K, L and M.

The screens will display day-to-day information about what is going on at the Department; that is, seminars, events, guests, new employees, PhD defences and internal news.

The information shown on the screens will be renewed every day so that only current news, events etc. will be shown.

If you know of an event at the Department, have a guest, know of any news or the like that you would like to be displayed on the information screens, please contact: Birgitte Højklint Nielsen: bhoejklint@econ.au.dk or Betina Sørensen: betins@econ.au.dk.

The screens are expected to be functioning within the next couple of days.

IS YOUR CV IN PURE UP TO DATE?

Please make sure that your CV on your personal website at AU.dk is updated.

This is of course for your own good, but not least because the accreditation team requires updated CVs of all faculty members.

Log on to PURE: <http://medarbejdere.au.dk/en/pure/> to update the CV-information on your website.

If you need help updating your CV in PURE, you should contact your administrative assistant (Who is my assistant?).

NEW GUIDELINES FOR CATERING AT MEETINGS WITH EXTERNAL PARTICIPANTS

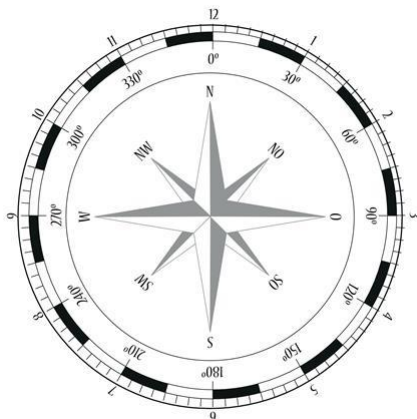

The guidelines regarding catering at meetings with external participants (e.g. a seminar guest, job candidate etc.) and advisory boards (incl. PhD assessment committees) when funding is provided by the Department have been changed.

In connection with off-site catering (i.e. at a restaurant), the maximum amount may not exceed DKK 450 per person for lunch and DKK 800 per person for dinner, and the number of internal participants per guest may not exceed two persons.

If lunch is taking place at the Department's premises, the maximum number of internal participants is three persons per external guest.

UMBRELLAS FOR TRIPS TO AND FROM THE K-BUILDING

When it's raining or snowing walking to and from the K-building can be tough. Therefore a bucket with umbrellas has been placed in the entrance hall of the L building and in building K.

Feel free to use the umbrellas when you walk to and from the K-building, and please remember to place the umbrella in the bucket in the building that you arrive to.

ALL ABOUT FUNDING

FUNDING OPPORTUNITIES

The following funding opportunities may be relevant to you:

FACE: Fund for Academic Cooperation and Exchange between Denmark and the Arab World

Established as a new Danish-Arab Partnership Programme (DAPP) engagement to support academic cooperation between Denmark and the MENA region.

Danish institutions that have entered into collaboration with partners from the MENA region can apply for funding for academic partnership projects.

FACE supports two types of grants:

- Large grants (between DKK 50,000 and 2,000,000 per year).
Deadline is 30 March 2016.
- Small grants (up to DKK 50,000 DKKK) for e.g. academic exchange visits, organizing of conferences, seminars and meetings, etc.
Deadline is 1 March 2017.

NORFACE: Dynamics of Inequality Across the Lifecourse: structures and processes (DIAL)

New Opportunities for Research Funding Agency Co-operation in Europe (NORFACE) is a collaborative partnership of national research funding agencies from 18 European countries in the area of social and behavioral sciences.

The DIAL call for proposals has four themes:

1. early life influences and outcomes
2. early adult transitions into tertiary education, vocational training and economic activity
3. labour market and family trajectories and the growth of inequality
4. labour market participation in later life and retirement.

The deadline for phase one applications is 30 March 2016.

A project requires minimum 3 partners from the participating countries.

The budget limit is € 1,500,000 across all participating partners.

THE PHD CORNER

FORSKERFIGHT RESEARCHER BATTLE 2016

The Danish University Extension invites PhD students at AU to take part in this year's ForskerFight researcher battle, which takes place on 25 September in connection with the culture and knowledge festival "Hearts & Minds" at AU.

The theme this year is "the body", and each participant has 4 minutes to describe his or her research interest and argue for its importance. The winner is awarded with DKK 10,000.

If you are interested in participating, you should send your proposal (max. 1 A4 page) to The Danish University Extension: kla@fuau.dk. Eight persons will be selected for the final battle.

Deadline is 18 March.

Among previous winners of the competition are our very own Philipp Schröder, who won in 2011, and Peter Løchte Jørgensen, who won in 2010.
