MANY AU CREDIT CARDS WILL EXPIRE ON 30 JUNE 2016

On 30 June 2016, a large number of AU credit cards will expire. Due to the large number of cards that need to be replaced at once, the procedure for replacing the cards will not be as usual.

If your AU credit card expires on 30 June 2016, you will receive a new credit card directly from SEB by post to your home address during the period 20 May to 20 June 2016, and on Monday 23 May you will receive an email from AU Finance with information about the replacement of your AU credit card.

The new credit card will have the same card number and PIN code as your old card, but the expiry date and the security code on the back will be different. You should not activate the new card before use.

AU Finance will make sure that your travel profile at Carlson Wagonlit is updated with the new credit card information, but you must change your credit card information for other regular credit card payments (e.g. Brobizz, subscriptions) yourself, and don't forget to destroy the old card.

NEW AV-EQUIPMENT AT AU - HAVE A SAY!

In connection with a call for tender concerning new AV-equipment for meeting rooms, lecture halls and auditoriums at AU, AU IT and AU's purchasing department would like to involve you as lecturers in the requirements analysis which will precede the tender process.

BSS IT Support therefore invites interested faculty to join the requirements part of the tender process to help ensure the right design, capacity and functionality of future AV-equipment.

Please contact Andreas Heuwinkel if you would like to be consulted regarding this matter or if you have any questions: ah@au.dk.

LUNCH FOR EXAMINERS AND EXTERNAL EXAMINERS

In connection with exams, lunch for the examiner and external examiner will be ordered by the study supporter. The examiner and external examiner must pick up their lunch in CafInn (the canteen in building 2610(S)).

The Multi Hall in building 2610(S) will be used for written exams for a large part of the exam period, so the "glass room" on the 2nd floor of building 2628(M) has been reserved for lunch-eating examiners and external examiners during the entire exam period.

IS YOUR CV IN PURE UP TO DATE?

THE STUDY PROGRESS REFORM IS READY TO BE IMPLEMENTED

The Study Progress Reform II is now ready to be implemented at AU. The aim of the reform is to provide increased flexibility for the students. Two of the key elements of the reform are that compulsory registration for exams will be abolished and that a maximum time to degree will be introduced.

However, it is still a general set of rules. During the coming months, the faculties will decide how to handle the new rules, and the academic regulations will be adjusted. How this will affect the individual degree programmes will be decided at the faculty in the near future.

The students have received the following information about the reform:
Information for students about the reform

Read more about the study progress reform here

An information meeting about the Study Progress Reform will be held at the Department within the coming weeks. You will receive a separate invitation to the meeting by e-mail once the date has been set.
